Enviroschool workshops set for May

BATON ROUGE – Enviroschool workshops, presented by the Department of Environmental Quality, help the public better understand the agency and how it operates. In May, the workshop topic for Baton Rouge, Shreveport, Lake Charles and New Orleans will be Surveillance and Enforcement 101: How the process works. This session will focus on the roles and processes of the Surveillance and Enforcement Division including discussions on facility inspections, ambient monitoring, enforcement referrals and types of enforcement actions. In Alexandria and Monroe, the topic for the workshop will be Water Permits 101: Understanding the process. This session will introduce the water program's mission, major regulations that govern the program and examples of water permits.
